

Usage 6 Formula Sheets

This accommodation supports students with math learning disabilities with disabilities that impact memory. Students entitled this accommodation must discuss it with their instructors. A formula sleet is a testing accommodation for math and sciences classes. A student maybe approved to use a frmulasheet in anyclass in which the essential function of the course includes mathematical formulas. This includes developmental and college level corses, as well as nonathematics classes such as chemistry or physics.

Using aformula sheet is easot shyee sshyeen instationals concerns about the apprpriateness ting a formula sheet:

The instructor is required to allow a formula sheet for students with disabilities who have been approved by Student Disability Services. A formula sheet should contain pertinent formulas for the materials to be tested, but is not limited to those formulas. Sudents are expected to recognize what equations a pertinent to the current course materials and understand the poper use of the information.

Instructors involved in this accommodationshould f suggestion that the student give it to the in